A: On today's programme we have a very special guest, Jake Maxwell. Last year, Jake's brother was seriously ill in hospital suffering from kidney problems. Doctors couldn't do anything to treat him and only pills and medicines were keeping him alive. He needed a new kidney and Jake gave him one of his. Now, two months later, they're both recovering and feeling well. Welcome, Jake. Tell us what happened.

B: Well, it was quite easy. I had to go to the hospital three times before the operation for tests. They tested my blood group, my blood pressure and my heart rate. They operated on me in the evening. It was a Tuesday evening. On the Wednesday I felt terrible – my muscles ached and I felt sick but I soon recovered and was allowed home four days later, on Monday.

A: Has it changed your life?

B: No. I can do exercise again now. I had to rest for six weeks but I feel perfect now. I've always been healthy which helped. I have to go and see my GP once a week for check-ups but, so far, there are no problems.

A: And how's your brother?

Zadanie 8

Przykładowa odpowiedź:

Dear Philip,

How are you doing? I haven't seen you for three days now. I heard what happened.

I'm sorry you broke your leg. I hope it doesn't hurt you too badly. I guess you can't do many things now. It takes time to get dressed, right?

A few years ago I broke my leg too, so I can give you some advice. Firstly, keep your leg high all the time. Next, eat lots of vegetables and good meat – this way your leg will recover faster. And, if I were you, I'd get a long stick for scratching your leg because it will get itchy.

Text me if you need anything. I'd like to come over.

Take care,
XYZ
