Nowadays, the majority of people own a bike. They buy them to commute to work or school. Others believe that cycling is the best way to keep fit, while teenagers use special bikes to perform complicated tricks. The most persistent cyclists take part in different races with the hope of setting a world record.

3.2

However, a bicycle isn't a modern invention – it's almost 200-years-old. At the beginning, bikes were made of wood and didn't have pedals. Later on, the pedals appeared, but they were attached to the front wheel. There were different types of wheel and sizes. At first, the front wheels were twice as big as the back ones!

Zadanie 5 (3 pkt)

Przeczytaj informacje o trzech osobach (5.1–5.3) oraz czterech książkach (A–D). Do każdej osoby dopasuj jedną książkę, która najbardziej by jej odpowiadała. Wpisz odpowiednie litery obok numerów osób. Jedna książka została podana dodatkowo i nie pasuje do żadnej osoby.

5.1

Sam: I don't mind reading thick books but, for me, the most important things are intelligent characters and an exciting or a surprising ending.

5.2

Bella: My favourite books are scary stories about people who are mysterious and, in some ways, extraordinary. Sometimes, I get so frightened while reading that I can't sleep at night, but I don't mind, really.

5.3

Jane: I enjoy reading books in which ordinary people experience something unusual, like seeing a ghost. But I don't like stories which scare you to death, but rather those which make you laugh.

A.

Ghostly Welcome is a huge collection of horror stories – a perfect book for all those who like being afraid. Its pages are filled with a wide range of unusual and secretive characters who try to lead ordinary lives, but can't because of their dark past.

B.

Nico Brachett leads the boring life of a school librarian, but, in the afternoons, he turns into a brilliant detective who can solve any crime, and catch even the most professional thief. Puzzle solver is a quite lengthy but very gripping novel which keeps readers in suspense till the last chapter.

C.

Sam, a simple factory worker, and Stella, a pretty secretary, are a happy couple. But one night, Stella dies in an accident and comes back to Earth as a ghost. She tries to contact Sam but he doesn't believe in ghosts. No wonder that in the end, he starts a relationship with another woman.

D.

Scary Manhattan is a quick-moving, urban legend about office workers who are haunted by the ghost of their previous boss. The ghost plays silly tricks on them, and they aren't intelligent enough to get rid of the ghost. This story is definitely more humorous than scary.
