Here's The News!

ASGARDIA – THE SPACE NATION

Earth is home to millions of species, but there is one that is dominant: humans. We are responsible for all the problems on our planet: global warming, the ozone hole, endangered (or already extinct) species, just to name a few. By 2050 Earth will be really crowded, with 9 billion people living here.

No wonder that when a group of scientists (1) (announce) that they wanted to build a new nation in outer space, thousands of people (2) (get) interested in the idea. The project called Asgardia is open to everybody and it is free to join. Its mission is to build a 'peaceful society' in space. But before other countries (3) (recognise) Asgardia as a nation, it will need to have a permanent population, a territory and a government. After Asgardians (4) (create) a democratic government, they (5) (form) a Court, a Ministry of Justice and other institutions. Then the United Nations will vote on the new country.

In the meantime, in 2017 Asgardians sent their first satellite into space and they are getting ready to build platforms in Earth's orbit for Asgardians to live on.
