Hi everyone,
We hear people talking about lazy teenagers.
I disagree. When I volunteered at an old people's home in London last summer, I met people my age who wanted to work there, too.

My job was to spend time with elderly people. I walked with them to a park and listened to stories from their lives. It was the best history lesson. One blind woman told me that she had drunk tea with Winston Churchill and one elderly man said that he had been a war soldier. Awesome!

This volunteer work gave me a lot of energy and taught me patience. It opened my eyes to the problems of others. You can help, too.
