Transcript

There are four different countries in the United Kingdom. They are: England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland.

The capitals of these countries are interesting cities. London is the capital city of England and the UK. It's very big. The population is almost eight million. There are a lot of famous places in London: Tower Bridge, Buckingham Palace and the beautiful Houses of Parliament. London's museums are interesting, too. The Tate Modern art museum is new, and it's very cool!

Edinburgh is the capital city of Scotland. Edinburgh Castle is very old. Edinburgh is famous for its fantastic New Year's Eve party. It's called Hogmanay.

Cardiff is the capital city of Wales. Cardiff's Millennium Stadium and the Wales Millennium Centre are not old buildings, but they are interesting. In Wales, the languages are English and Welsh.

This is Belfast. It's the capital city of Northern Ireland. Belfast is beautiful! The Albert Memorial Clock and the City Hall are very famous.

Look. Here are some more interesting places to see in the UK.

The British countryside is very green and beautiful.

The city of Liverpool is the home of The Beatles. It's got a really famous football team, too!

This is Newcastle. Newcastle is on the River Tyne. There are five bridges in the city!

York is a very old city. It's got a big cathedral.

Glasgow is in Scotland. It's about eighty kilometres from Edinburgh. Glasgow has got a lot of good shops. It's a cool city.

Manchester's football teams are famous. They're called Manchester City and Manchester United. Manchester is a fantastic place if your passion is football!

Oxford isn't very big, but it's very old. The University of Oxford is famous.

Brighton is on the south coast of England. The Brighton Pavilion is cool. There's a famous pier in Brighton, too. It's really long.

Padstow is a very small town, with beautiful beaches. And the fish and chips are delicious!

5 A typical Saturday

TB, page 138

Transcript

Toby lives with his family in England.

On Saturdays, Toby gets up at eight o'clock and has breakfast.

Toby doesn't go to school at weekends.

Toby's sister, Emma, works every Saturday morning. It's half past eight now, and she's going to work.

On Saturday mornings, Toby rides his bike. Toby loves his bike. He likes bike magazines, too!

In the week, Toby wears a school uniform. But it's Saturday today, and he's wearing jeans and a T-shirt.

Toby's sister doesn't like bikes. She likes clothes, and she loves her mobile phone. At the moment, she's sending a text message.

Toby's got a games console. At weekends, Toby plays video games with his dad. His mum can't play video games and his sister doesn't like them, but his dad loves them, and he can play well.

In the afternoon, Toby chats to his cousin, Andrew, online. Andrew lives in New Jersey, on the east coast of the US.

It's three o'clock in the UK, but it's only ten o'clock in the morning in New Jersey, and Andrew is chatting to his cousin online.

Andrew's got a mobile phone. He often talks to his friends on the phone.

Before he meets his friends for lunch, Andrew practises the saxophone. Andrew is in the school band, and he practises every day. He can play quite well.

On Saturdays, Andrew and his friends go to a pizza place for lunch. They love pizza.

After lunch, Andrew, Jonathan and Peter do something together. They often go skateboarding outside Andrew's house.

On Saturday afternoons, Andrew has baseball practice. Baseball is his favourite sport. He plays baseball twice a week. His dad loves baseball, too. He's a baseball coach!

It's nine o'clock, and Andrew is tired. He's watching TV with his dad. He usually goes to bed at half past ten.

6 Football in the USA

TB, page 140

Transcript

Football is the UK's favourite sport. Many towns have got a football team. At weekends, people sometimes go to football matches at their local club.

Famous football clubs, for example Manchester United, Aston Villa and Liverpool, have got fans around the world.

In the US, football is called soccer. Soccer isn't the US's favourite sport. Many people prefer basketball, or baseball. But some people watch soccer.

The American national soccer teams have got a lot of fans. They always play in the Olympics, and they sometimes play in the World Cup. The women's soccer team is very good. It often wins the Olympic gold medal.

Some famous international soccer stars play for teams in the US. The British player David Beckham, and the Brazilian player, Marta, are very popular.

At school in the US, students usually play baseball or basketball. But students often play soccer, too. Soccer is popular with girls and boys. But boys and girls don't play in the same teams.

These girls love soccer! They're in a soccer team called Fair Lawn. They play in a junior soccer league. They train two or three times a week, in the evenings, after school. They usually train for about two hours. The girls don't train at weekends. Every weekend, the girls play league matches.

It's Sunday. The team's got a very important match at nine thirty this morning. The girls don't like soccer matches early in the morning, but they want to win.

Before the match starts, the team practises.

The Fair Lawn team wears a uniform. It's red, white and black.

There are a lot of lines and numbers on the field, because people usually play American football here. American football is very different from soccer.

The girls' parents are very proud of them. They always watch the matches.

At half time, the players always have a drink, and the coach talks to the team.

The Fair Lawn soccer team is really good. They are in first place in the league. They rarely lose. Today they play a great match, and they win again. The team and the fans are very happy.
